Group Number: ______
Group Members:

__________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________________

Basic Functionality:

1. Board is wired correctly and neatly with appropriate colors

2. MIDI packet recorded and same packet returned to computer

3. Recorded sequence can be played back a second time correctly

4. Recorded sequence gets overwritten when recording new signal

5. Data does not get overwritten when EEPROM is full
   (describe details in report)

6. Compression/Decompression implemented
   (describe details in report)

Extra Credit Functionality:

   Demonstrate any additional functionality, and describe details in report

Comments: